

SQL - INSERT, UPDATE, DELETE

Content

- Export DDL script from Vertabelo
- DML operations:
 - INSERT, UPDATE, DELETE

Example tasks

1|

Create a new employee with the following values:

- ename = your last name,
- deptno = 10,
- sal = 2000,
- comm = 100,
- hiredate = today's date,
- job = INTERN,
- mgr = null,

2|

Update the salary of the employee with your name - set it to 3000.

3|

Delete the employee with your name.

Individual tasks

1|

Create three new employees with random values.

2|

Create a new employee who will work in the SALES. department, and his boss will be an employee named KING.

3|

Update the new employee so that they earn the minimum salary from department 20.

4|

Update all employees who work in department 10 so that their commission increases by 100.

5|

Update all employees who earn less than the maximum salary of the CLERK position so that their commission is 1000.

6|

Using a correlated subquery, update one of the new employees so that his salary is the maximum salary for their salary group.

7|

Using a correlated subquery, update one of the new employees so that their salary is equal to the maximum salary that employees in the same position earn.

8|

Remove all employees whose salary is less than the smallest salary for the position CLERK

9|

Remove employees who have been with the company for less than 30 years (you can use EXTRACT)

10|

Remove employees whose commission is greater than the salary or are employed in the OPERATIONS department

Additional tasks

1|

Insert a new project into the database, and then assign to it all employees whose names begin with the letter S (using SELECT in the INSERT operation).

2|

Update uncompleted projects so that their completion date is the same date in the following year.

3|

Update the department of employee number 7369 so that it is assigned to the department that has the least number of employees. Include departments without any employees.

4|

Remove projects that have no employees.

5|

Remove employees whose salary is less than the average salary for their job.